THE VOICE OF THE HIGHLANDS

THIS WEEK'S PRESS RUN—1650

HALIBURTON, ONTARIO Thursday, Sept. 29, 1960

Established in 1882 as the Minden Echo & Haliburton Recorder

MINDEN MAGISTRATE'S COURT

Wm. Ponno of Oshawa who chose to have his trial before a judge and jury had his preliminary hearing before Magistrate Moore on Thursday.

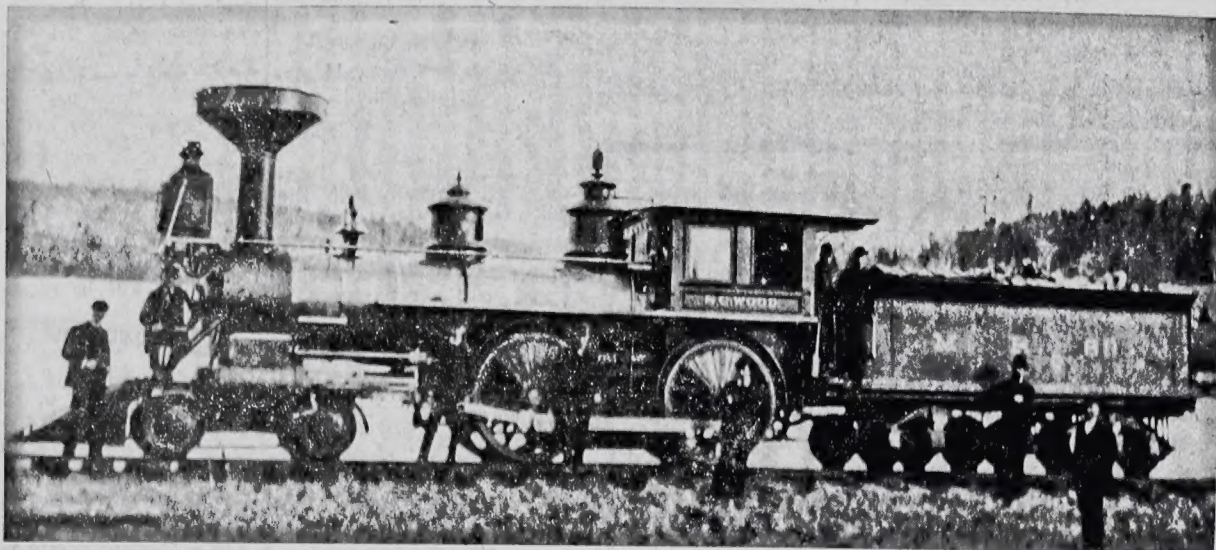

Mr. Ponno was charged with careless driving and criminal negligence after he was involved in a two car collision on August 14 at Partridge Lake on Highway 35.

Glen Howe, a Toronto lawyer and driver of the other car, received severe leg injuries and appeared in court on crutches.

Jerry Howe of Haliburton and Wm. Roe of Toronto were both convicted of careless driving after a minor accident at the Scotch Line corners, Minden. It was brought out in evidence the accused had been drag racing. Jerry Howe was fined a total of $59.50 and Wm. Roe paid $56.50.

A charge of careless driving against Mrs. Lola Prentice, Minden, was dismissed.

Vern Passmore, 19, of Peterboro, was charged with careless driving when he failed to make the exit turn from Highway 121 onto Highway 35 at the Kimmount turn. The truck crossed Highway 35, turned over, spilling its load of soft drinks, then righted itself on its four wheels. The accused was found guilty and fined $10 plus $3 costs.

The citizens of Haliburton county and any others who might be interested are cordially invited to be present at an assembly to be held at the Haliburton County District High School, Haliburton, on Saturday afternoon at 3 p.m.

The purpose of the assembly is the dedication of an historic locomotive.

Officials of the Canadian National Railways will be in attendance and will formerly present the locomotive to the Haliburton Rotary Club.

The engine to be presented is somewhat more modern than the first wood burning type that came into Haliburton in 1878 which is pictured above, but owing to the dieselization of our railways steam locomotives are now a thing of the past.

Prior to the ceremonies a grand parade will leave the community park and from what we can learn it will not lack for musical accompaniment. Music will be supplied by the Colborne Recreation Trumpet and Baton Corps, Pickering Legion Bagpipe Band and the Haliburton Legion Band.

This will be a red letter day in the history of Haliburton, don't miss it.

Fatal Accident Survey In County

The following is a survey of highway accident deaths in Haliburton county covering the period 1946 to 1959:

1946	2	1947	4	1948	1	1949	2	1950	2	1951	2	1952	2	1953	2	1954	4	1955	7	1956	5	1957	3	1958	3	1959	1
Total																												40

It might be interesting to note that only one area had a lower total death rate than Haliburton, Manitoulin with 20.

Special Speaker

Governor Dooley Greer of Rotary made his annual visit to the Minden club September 19. Dooley, a former mayor of Barrie, who operates a bus business there, made a fine impression on the club.

R. Eldon Greer

His talk on Rotary emphasized the highlights of various club activities. For example Rotary spent $350,000 last year on scholarships. The students who receive these must take this further step in education in a country other than their own.

Dooley was pleased with the work done by the club, on the Rotary park, for the

Business Change

We have just been informed that Emmerson Lumber Co. have purchased the coal business formerly owned and operated by Russ Dart Enterprises.

Mr. Dart is not able to give the business the attention it requires owing to other interests.

Despite prevailing opinion, there is still quite a demand for coal, so in order that those who desire fuel of this type could be served the change was made.

Those who need coal should contact Emmerson Lumber who are prepared to give you prompt and efficient service.

ASSESSORS CONVENE AT HALIBURTON

The association of assessors which comprises the counties of Peterboro, Hastings, Northumberland, Durham, Victoria and Haliburton are holding their sessions on Friday in the Canadian Legion hall.

Mr. Lewis Roberts, assessor of Dysart, is chairman of the organization which holds a conference once a year when those who determine the value of our property

Red Cross swimming classes, aiding the Scouts and the boys' hockey.

Haliburton Couple Wed 45 Years

Two long time residents of Haliburton, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kellett, celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary on September 18 with a lovely wedding reception at Holiday Inn. The lodge was beautifully decorated with roses and garden bouquets, the roses a gift from Miss Hilda Chattaway of Appleby College, Oakville.

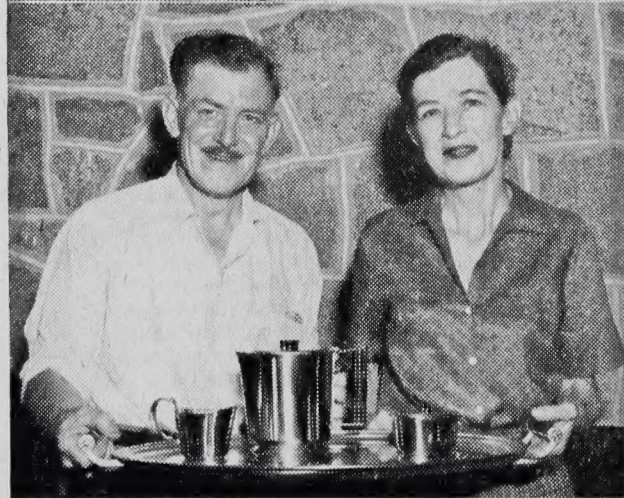

Friends and relatives came by the score to pay their respects to a grand couple who have enriched the lives of their families and the community in which they have lived.

Son, Moss Kellett and his wife Merle who make their home in Cornwall, Muriel (Mrs. "Duke" Teatro) of Haliburton and a nephew, Jack party for taxation purposes can—as the saying goes—talk shop.

We are informed that about 75 of these gentlemen, who will be accompanied by their wives, will be guests in our vicinity this week and if the weather keeps up they should consider the trip worthwhile as the autumnal beauty of the Highlands of Haliburton is at present beyond description.

For the sixth consecutive year the managers of Rapid Grip & Batten Ltd., Toronto, held their annual conference at Kenmar lodge.

In appreciation of the hospitality extended to them by Ken and Mary Banton a formal presentation consisting of a tea set was made, accessory pieces to the engraved tray presented to them last year by the same group. It might be interesting to the readers of the Haliburton County Echo to know that a vote is taken by these managers each year as to where the conference will take place. For the sixth year running it was unanimously decided that Kenmar lodge in Haliburton should be selected on the basis of the good accommodation, excellent food and warm hospitality traditionally afforded by the host and hostess, Ken and Mary Banton.

Apart from the business portion of the program, the group fished, golfed and enjoyed a tour of the highlands including Skyline Park.

Two young singers from Haliburton, namely Miss Faye Sawyer and Miss Carlene Stamp sang at the Lindsay central exhibition's amateur hour on Friday night last. This program was heard over radio station CKLY in Lindsay. Many citizens from Haliburton heard the broadcast.

The members of the B.A.C. men's group held their monthly communion service and breakfast at the Anglican church on Sunday morning. As the group were without a speaker, general business was discussed. President Earl Cooper outlined some of the highlights of the executive meeting held on Thursday night last. Hiring of a caretaker was on the agenda and the forthcoming visitation program was discussed. Rev. John Taylor asked for volunteers to complete the interior painting of the church.

We drove up to Skyline Park on Sunday and noticed several visitors taking their first look from this beautiful park. It is hoped that the leaves will be at their best this week end. And by the way the Haliburton Rotary club are sponsoring this year's festival of color.

The Haliburton curling club are pressing forward in an effort to have their new addition ready for the curling season. It is well underway and should soon be completed.

A good representation from the Haliburton Rotary club attended the district conference at Honey Harbor on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday of this week.

And we can't close off this week's news letter without reminding you to bring all the family to Haliburton this Saturday, October 1. See the monster parade at 2.30 p.m. Then the dedication of the locomotive and finally why not end the day viewing the cavalcade of color from fabulous Skyline Park.

How to recognize the new VW

First of all, there's 10% more power to play with. Now the Volkswagen leaps away from lights! Increased torque means more reserve power in every gear for safer passing. But although the engine's stepped-up to 40 horsepower, it's still as easy on the gas as ever.

And there's the synchronized first gear. You no longer have to stop the car to change down to first. From second gear, you can shift down smartly into first—and whip away. And all the gear ratios have been changed to take advantage of the new engine performance.

The luggage space is bigger. There's now ten cubic feet. A full 5 up front and another 5 behind the back seat. Now you can stand all your shopping bags upright under the hood. Or take a family vacation with all your luggage neatly packed away.

The Volkswagen is constantly being improved. Unless you drive the new Volkswagen (or know what to look for) you can't tell it from last year's model. Or the one before that. Or the one before that. In fact, since 1948 no less than nine hundred improvements have been made to this remarkable car yet it still remains basically the same. That's why the VW retains its value. The Volkswagen is an honest product. While there are other improvements in the new VW, it is Volkswagen's philosophy not to change for the sake of change but to search continually for new ways to improve a great idea.

Some of these improvements in the Deluxe Volkswagen are also in the Custom model. Whichever you buy, we think you get the best car value in the world. There's so much to say about the new VW why not get it first hand at your Volkswagen dealer's tonight!

BANK OF COMMERCE REPORT

Under the title "Progress in the West," the current issue of the Commercial Letter published by the Canadian Bank of Commerce suggests that each of the three mid-western provinces is assuming an increasingly distinct identity and that the lines along which they are developing are tending more and more to diverge.

The Letter points out that it is a misnomer to call Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta the "prairie provinces" as if they were not only confined to the limited area which may accurately be described as prairie, but also were identical in physical characteristics. While the three are not dissimilar in total area, only about 10% of Manitoba, a third of Saskatchewan and a quarter of Alberta are arable prairie. The Canadian shield covers most of Manitoba and the northern third of Saskatchewan, while most of Alberta and a substantial part of Saskatchewan are underlain by a wide band of oil-bearing strata.

After outlining some background information as to terrain, natural resources, population, transportation and growth, the Letter concludes that the pattern of the future is now taking shape. It suggests that Manitoba's agricultural industry will become increasingly diversified, and less dependent on the export market than formerly. It foresees steady growth of the already well established distributive trade and further development of a mixed but on the whole light industrial complex. The Canadian shield, source of most of its rapidly expanding mining industry, may in years to come, make a contribution comparable to that which the eastern arm of the shield has already made to Ontario and Quebec.

The lines are as yet less clearly drawn in Saskatchewan, but owing to its much larger arable area and more specialized agriculture it seems likely that that province's grain crop will continue to set the pace for cereal production in the west. The influence of its oil and gas resources, however, seem likely to round out an economy which previously was overly vulnerable to crop and market conditions. As much of its recent new capital investment has been attracted by the prevalence of oil and gas, and as the consumer market is relatively small, future investment seems likely to tend more towards capital goods. As in Manitoba, a further expansion of its mining industry within the Canadian shield seems almost inevitable.

Alberta, the Letter points out, has taken a major boom in its stride, and, if the source of that boom, the bringing into production of a major petroleum industry, has lost some of its steam, the associated activities which it brought into being are taking up a good deal of the slack. The increase in population has also created new demand, not only at the retail level, but also in the light industries catering to consumer needs, a factor which seems likely also to further differentiate agricultural production. Alberta's economic health is not, therefore, wholly tied to the export aspect of the petroleum and natural gas industries but may be expected to rest on a manufacturing complex of industries which either use oil and gas as a raw material or which require a cheap and abundant source of energy. There are two major unknown factors in the equation of the future—the possible effects of a railway to Pine Point, and the fascinating riddle of the bituminous oil sands.

ST. GEORGE'S W.A.

A brief time of fellowship at the United church parsonage to greet the Rev. and Mrs. G. Petrie was a happy prelude to the meeting of St. George's W.A. at the home of Mrs. George Earle on Tuesday evening, September 20.

Twelve members were in attendance and a message was received from Mrs. Elwood Austin who is still confined to her home through illness.

The meeting was opened with the scripture, Mark 6: 34 and Luke 11:1-4 read by Mrs. Cruickshanks.

Before prayers the president, Miss Clarke, shared a little of the insight gained from the retreat under the inspired leadership of Rev. Dr. Chas. Whiston at Redstone lodge in July.

Speaking of the life of intercessory praying, Dr. Whiston used the analogy of the blood bank. "The initiative comes from outside ourselves—from the medical profession and their knowledge of the need. The appeal is made to us. Normally we can respond or refuse. We observe the blood drawn from our vein—with our free consent—and we do not see it again. It is preserved and put into the hands of medical men to use when needed. We are not allowed to do this ourselves. Later, doctors and nurses with their medical knowledge and skill transfuse it into the veins of another who desperately needs it. We could not do this. We have neither the knowledge nor the skill to give our blood ourselves, directly.

So with intercessory prayer. We do not know or understand fully another's life or needs. God does. We can, however, offer to God our energy of mind and spirit, and our love which can be given, through God, into another life. We should not go directly into the life of another. We should go through God; put our love into God's hands to be used for others. Our love is selfish. It must be held up, surrendered. Only then is it fit to go into another human life. Our complexities need to be simplified in God. God has a way of drawing our attention to the needs of others—many ways—a letter, a telephone call, a minister's words, a report in the newspaper, over radio or T.V.

God asks us to make a spiritual donation to His blood bank of prayer. This is intercessory prayer.

Left to ourselves we so often pray for the wrong things for others—happiness, security and so on. This is not enough. God's primary concern is not happiness, etc., but that, in them His name may be hallowed.

"Our Father" is the perfect prayer for everyone.

The first petition in our prayers for missions asked that we might remember that Christian prayer is not an attempt to ask God for our purposes, but a petition that He will use us for His."

Following the members' prayer and prayer for Dr. Florence Nicholls, our prayer partner in India, the many concerns of our community were gathered up and offered in the Lord's Prayer.

During the business session, pledges, E.C.D., and social service contributions were received and several matters of business discussed.

Mrs. Len Pearsell gave a report on the bake sales held in July and August and it was decided to hold one about the middle of October.

This year marks the 75th anniversary of the W.A. of the Anglican Church of Canada and we were reminded that our own St. George's branch will mark 50 years of missionary service next spring. Our branch was organized in March 1911.

Mrs. Clifford Elstone invited the members to her home for the next meeting, October 11.

The meeting was closed with a special prayer for the sick and troubled in our community and the grace.

A social half hour followed, Mrs. Tolbert Johnston and Mrs. Mendal Smith, tea hostesses, assisting Mrs. Earle.

Haliburton Rotary Club To Say It With Music

THREE BANDS TO HIGHLIGHT ROTARY PARADE

The Haliburton Rotary Club will "say it with music" when their gala parade moves off from the community ball park on Saturday, October 1.

Three bands will be in the parade that will start at 2.30 p.m., ending at the Haliburton County District High School for the dedication of the historic locomotive at 3 p.m.

The bands in the parade will be the Colborne Recreation Trumpet and Baton Corps, Haliburton Legion Band and a third band from Willowdale.

So for all you music lovers, don't miss the big parade on Saturday, October 1, dedication day for the historic locomotive.

HISTORIC COMMITTEE TO BE CONGRATULATED

This Saturday, October 1 marks the dedication of the historic locomotive on its location at the Haliburton County District High School.

This locomotive, which has proved to be a great attraction with summer visitors and local citizens would not be there today if it hadn't been for the efforts of the Haliburton Rotary Club. But special thanks must go to the local club's historic committee headed by Ron Curry, as chairman and with members Dick Clarke, Russ Dart and Cliff Dawson. These four men have put in hours of their time getting the locomotive prepared for the dedication.

Martyn Best Delivers His Classification Talk To Rotary

Martyn Best, a member of the Haliburton Rotary Club, gave his classification talk at the Rotary luncheon on Thursday evening last. He took as his topic "The Requirements of a High School Teacher."

The speaker gave a very interesting talk in which he enlightened the members of the joys and heartaches of a school teacher. He told of how he graduated from the University of Manitoba in 1935 with his B.A. He later came east holding many different positions until he decided to reside in Haliburton. He started a clothing store in Haliburton which he still operates.

Mr. Best accepted the challenge.

He has attended the Ontario Teachers' College for the past two summers. At teachers' college he studied management, law and psychology. He studied in English, history and geography this year. He told of teaching at a school in Toronto under the supervision of a specialist.

He stated that at one time he thought only women were school teachers, but pointed out that many men are now entering the profession.

In concluding his talk the speaker told of the problems faced by teachers in upper school.

Martyn was introduced by Bud Thayer and thanked on behalf of the club by Wm. Kerr.

Rotary Club Notes

Rotarians Harold Black and Dick Clarke attended the Fenelon Falls Rotary Club golf tournament on Wednesday of last week.

Two guests were present at the meeting, M. McNaughton of Durham and Sam Magee of Orillia.

Word was received from the Rotary club of Watdown, Ont., that they are chartering two planes for the 1961 Rotary International convention in Tokyo. Twenty vacancies are still left.

It's becoming a habit for the Haliburton Rotary club to have 100% meetings. They are having so many that they have been first in attendance two months in a row for district 701, and it looks like another first for September.

The Rotary members here have pledged themselves to go out and canvass for the upcoming C.N.I.B. drive. The Haliburton county objective is $1,500.

Teen-Town will soon be under way at the high school and once again the Rotarians will act as chaperons every Saturday night. Rotarian Bud Thayer will be chairman of the Teen-Town committee.

The annual meeting of the crippled children's Easter seal committee will be held in Lindsay on October 18. The Rotary club here are expecting a good representation to go from here.

IN QUEST OF YESTERDAY

A HISTORY OF HALIBURTON

by NILA REYNOLDS

(Copyrighted)
(Thirteenth Instalment)
Chapter 7
THE GREAT I.B.&O.

Early geological reports on the mineral potential of Haliburton county lured many prospectors to the area. Among the most ardent of the world's rock formations, the Laurentian shield which girdles Hudson's Bay reaches its southernmost point in Haliburton county. Here the elevation of the North American continent exposed rock ridges that were old before the advent of man. The boulders and drift rock carried south by the great glacier further contributed to the variety of minerals awaiting detection.

The discovery of iron in Snowdon township set the stage for an iron rush which culminated in the construction of the Irondale, Bancroft & Ottawa Railway whose importance in the opening up of the eastern section of Haliburton county cannot be discounted.

The first strike was made in 1870 by W. Robinson of Bobcaygeon who was clearing land for agricultural purposes. It was followed by further discoveries of iron bearing rock by J. B. Campbell of Port Perry.

As a result of tensions which developed between Canada and the U.S. during the American Civil War, the Monck road running from Lake Couchiching to the Ottawa was surveyed and constructed through southern Snowdon. Originally built to serve military purposes, it soon assumed importance as a colonization road. However, even before its construction in the middle 1860's, Snowdon had attracted settlers like Richard McCracken, A. Scott, Stephen Moore, David Chalmers, J. B. Edmison and J. B. Scott who achieved prosperity as a farmer.

Named for Lord Monck, who was governor general from 1861 to 1868, the Monck road brought in settlers to the outlet of Devil's Lake. A post office established there called "Devil's Creek" was kept by Peter Barr. When extensive deposits of iron were unearthed in the area his satanic majesty's popularity was eclipsed and the locale became Irondale.

Attracted by the mineral possibilities settlers came in 1874 to Furnace Falls. The post office created there was kept by Jeremiah Herlihey. So rosy did the prospects of "iron in them thar hills" appear that a Toronto lawyer, Mr. Short, opened the Victoria Iron Mine in 1875. Several loads of ore were actually mined and laboriously hauled to the rail head at Kinmount by panting horses urged forward by hoarse voiced teamsters. Several shipments reached Cleveland. Lack of capital closed the operation until 1878 when another Toronto man, an engaging Irishman, Mr. Miles, took over the business. After prospecting the district and conducting extensive tests, so convinced was he that the mine could be successfully developed that he formed the Snowdon Iron Mine Co. and financed and built six and three quarter miles of single track railway from Howland on the Victoria Railway north of Kinmount to the mine on the south shore of the Burnt River at a cost of $60,000. He too shipped a number of carloads of ore before bankruptcy overtook him.

Next on the scene in 1880 was a young American engineer, Mr. Pusey, who took over the operation but again the scarcity of funds closed it down. Undaunted by the failures of their predecessors, two Chicago men, Mr. Parry and Mr. Mills, grasped the brass ring of the "iron in Snowdon" merry-go-round.

Extensive diamond drilling on the property only persuaded them further on the soundness of their investment of $200,000 which was spent on the construction of a mining village and a smelting furnace. It is possible that their grandiose schemes might have achieved something worthwhile had not a disastrous forest fire which swept the area in 1887 written finis to the Furnace Falls mine.

Meanwhile the young American engineer, Mr. Pusey, could not rid himself of the conviction that success would crown his efforts in Snowdon. Enlisting the aid of C. J. Pusey and Mr. Howland, not only was a charter secured from the government, but funds for finance as well.

The Toronto and Nipissing Eastern Extension Railway Co. had been incorporated March 5, 1880 to build a railway from a point on the Toronto & Nipissing Railway through Haliburton, Victoria, Peterboro and Hastings to the Ottawa River. By authority of an act passed March 25, 1884, the Irondale, Bancroft & Ottawa Railway was officially launched and construction was begun on the line which followed the general direction of the Burnt River. At first the labor force was recruited locally and abetted by 100 Italian immigrants, but the abundance of more lucrative jobs available with the lumber companies in the area who drove their logs to the mills at Kinmount and Fenelon Falls wooed the local workers. Eventually the construction force of 300 men were principally Italian in nationality.

How these exiles from the vine clad slopes and sunny olive groves of Italy must have longed for their homeland as they shivered in the winds of early spring which iced the Burnt River. The raw frontier railway could not have compared very favorably with the ancient Apian Way where once the Caesars and Emperors traveled in splendor.

Two years were to elapse before the line reached Irondale where Mr. Pusey had opened the Howland mine by sinking a 100 foot shaft with two drifts. Unfortunately when the ore shipped from this shaft was processed, its high sulphur content prohibited its manufacture for profit. Another dream of prosperity for Haliburton died in its birthing.

However the advent of the I.B.&O. did bring a measure of prosperity to the areas through which it passed. The farmers used it to market the produce of their wood lots; over its rails passed railway ties, telegraph poles, cordwood, cedar posts, basswood and poplar for the paper mills, shingle bolts and elm for barrel staves.

Next to feel the advantages of the railway was the free grant township of Glamorgan, named for an ancient Welsh prince, Gwal Morgan, (posterity contracted his name to Glamorgan). It was surveyed in 1862. Eight years later the Monck road was extended east from Kinmount to within two miles of the present site of Gooderham which was already familiar to the loggers of the Green & Ellis Lumber Co. of Fenelon Falls who had been cutting square timber in the area. J. M. Pickens, arriving that fall, built his home near one of their lumber camps while Samuel Wiley located at Wiley's hill on the Bobcaygeon road. West of the present village Chas. Way, who later operated a hotel, opened the first post office. Once a week he carried the eagerly anticipated communications from the "front country" over the old Monck road from Kinmount.

Sam Whittaker became the proprietor of the first hotel which did a flourishing business with the ever thirsty loggers and river drivers who labored along the Burnt River. It was said that, before its rapids were tamed by control dams, the Burnt River "hung up" more drives than any other river in the Province of Ontario.

S. S. Hadley opened Gooderham's first general store and many of the houses in the village were erected by William Ritchie. At the junction of the Buckhorn and the Monck road Richard Davy operated a store.

Previous to 1880 Isaac Hunter built the first sawmill and grist mill. When it was burned John Hunter replaced it with a larger mill. The Rev. Tooke, an Anglican minister, held the first divine service in the community which later included a Methodist assembly. It is interesting to note that Glamorgan's first reeve, Philip Harding, gave up farming to take Holy Orders in the Anglican church and later officiated at Apsley on the Burleigh road.

When the first clerk of the township, J. B. Palmer, returned to England in 1882, he was replaced by Stephen Kettle.

Named for an English county dating from the Roman conquest, Monmouth was settled from the Monck road which brought Hotspur's first postal official, Thomas Clark, to the vicinity. Robert Ritchie made his home at Poverty Lake which the Burleigh road reached when it was built from the Monck road at Rock Lake north. On the arrival of the I.B.&O. Pusey Station was established. (The name was later changed to Wilberforce.) Here in the early days Mr. Riley kept the post office. At the outlet from Poverty Lake Mr. Richard Dunsford built a water power sawmill which operated for many years. The favorable location attracted a cheese factory and a store built by S. S. Ritchie.

This was the era of saw mills, over a period of 20 years every county seemed to accumulate a great variety. When the timber in the area was cut the mill moved on. Mitchell Ritchie operated such a mill at the foot of Providence Lake. Another mill owner was William Hadley.

Cardiff township, surveyed in 1862, was also named for a Welsh town whose church and castle were founded in 1100 A.D. The largest township in the county of Haliburton, Cardiff has 22 concessions on its eastern side which borders Hastings county. Like other eastern townships, settlement advanced by the Monck and Burleigh roads. At their junction point at Cheddar Mr. Thomas Woods kept both a store and an inn which provided travelers with meals and lodgings.

Among those who pioneered the Paudash Lake locale were the Armstrong family, George Patterson, Walter Kidd and Joseph Dunlop. Before the arrival of the I.B.&O. and the establishment of its station at Highland Grove, business in the Deer Lake neighborhood was monopolized by William Ogilvie who owned the store and blacksmith shop and kept the post office. Following the arrival of the rails, Highland Grove expanded rapidly and eventually absorbed the business from Deer Lake and Leafield.

During the 10 years between 1873 and 1883, Cardiff ratepayers increased from 31 to 137.

The first engineer on the I.B.&O. line was Mr. Sam

Hancock who paid affectionate tribute to his wife by calling his engine "Mary Anne." The soft wood diet "Mary Anne" was forced by necessity to consume on those first unscheduled runs did not agree with her and she voiced her indignation by emitting an excess of sparks which kindled blazes along the right of way which the train crew were forced to extinguish. Fortunately a schedule and suitable diet cured Mary Anne's indigestion and she served the I.B.&O. well until she was replaced by a coal burning engine.

Although the rails never reached two of their original destinations, Ottawa and Bancroft, the 50.96 miles of rails which included 22 bridges ranging from pile trestles to concrete and steel structures and varying in length from 12 to 301 feet, were opened to traffic from Howland to York on Dominion Day 1910 when five of Haliburton's eastern townships, including Harcourt from Dysart municipality, were opened to progress.

On October 16, 1909, a year before its official opening, Mackenzie Mann & Co. Ltd. gained control of the I.B.&O. which in 1915 became part of the Canadian Northern Railway. The line maintained its corporate identity as a C.N.R. subsidiary known as the I.B.&O. Railway Co. until 1943 when an order-in-council integrated it into the C.N.R. as the Irondale subdivision of the central Ontario region, Belleville division.

For 50 years the great I.B.&O. served the eastern townships well. Lumber milled at various points on the line and farm produce were shipped from stations like Furnace Falls, Irondale, Gooderham, Tory Hill, Wilberforce, Mumford (Harcourt), Highland Grove, Hughes, Baptiste and York River to markets in Toronto and the Niagara Peninsula. The return trains carried imports and mail from all over the world.

Over the I.B.&O. fathers traveled to and from World War I and their sons to the same battlefields during the second war. Young people caught the first glimpse of life beyond the highlands at the end of its southern run and old people boarded its trains in the happiness that only comes to the homeward bound.

Times and the economy of a county change over a half a century. Following World War II improved highway facilities cut the time in transit for lumber, plywood and veneer shipped by truck to a level with which the railway could not compete. The trains were left to haul the low rate slabs, logs and fuel wood.

Mining properties did not develop as anticipated for uranium milled to uranium oxide amounts to only a few pounds per ton of ore making its freight potential practically nil.

The handwriting spelling out the doom of the I.B.&O. was on the wall when on October 15, 1959 a hearing was held at Haliburton by the Board of Transport Commissioners. They sounded the death knell of the great I.B.&O. in their judgment handed down December 11, 1959. Here is the obituary of a railroad taken from the transcript of the board's findings:

"The line has had a long and useful life and like some other branch lines, has handled more traffic in former years than in later years. The changes that have taken place in the economy and industry of the area coupled with the development of paved highways and highway transportation services by bus and truck, both private and public, have been influential in reducing traffic handled by this branch line to a weekly average of approximately two to three outbound cars, mostly pulpwood and forest products, and less than one inbound car. On behalf of the Canadian National, it was said that on a per mile basis this branch is one of its most unprofitable lines and that the Canadian National management see no prospect that patronage will increase to an extent sufficient to warrant continuance of operation of the line. The evidence supports the view taken by Canadian National of future prospects for the line. The patronage in recent years and the prospective patronage for the future are not such as to warrant continuance of operation."

Thus endeth a railroad! In the spring of 1960, exactly half a century after the line was opened so optimistically, the last train of the great I.B.&O. made its final run on Thursday, March 31, 1960. It marked the end of an era for Haliburton's eastern townships.

Today the great Irondale, Bancroft & Ottawa railway is no more. This faithful servant of the traveling public is as defunct as the dodo or the dinosaur. During the summer of 1960 its tracks were ripped from their bed and the lighter rails dating to the line's inception sold to an American razor blade company for the high grade steel they contained. If you are a safety razor user, your next shave may be courtesy of the I.B.&O.

Next summer the weeds and brush will sink their roots into the rail bed, the untended bridges will gradually decay. Half a century from now nature will have obliterated all indications that a railroad, called by those she served the great I.B.&O., ever passed that way.

OBITUARY

Charles W. Schell

Citizens over this entire area were saddened on Thursday morning last when they learned of the sudden passing of Charles Schell.

The deceased had apparently been in fair health and was talking to his wife around 6 a.m. However when she spoke to him a few minutes later he did not respond. Such is the uncertainty of life.

The late Charles Schell was born at Bury's Green in the year 1900, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schell. After leaving school he became engaged in the lumbering industry and was thus employed for the greater part of the 60 years of his life. During the past 17 years he had been employed as an engineer for Hay & Co. Ltd.

In June 1923 he chose as his life partner the former Ida Sisson who is left to mourn his loss.

The deceased was widely known and respected in this area and his passing removes a true and faithful member of the Orange order, and a valued member of the Royal Black Preceptory, Haliburton.

The funeral service was held on Saturday morning from St. George's church, Haliburton, when the Rev. John Taylor delivered a message of comfort and hope to the bereaved family and the many friends from near and far who had gathered to pay their last respects.

Surviving beside his sorrowing wife are four daughters and five sons, namely Eileen (Mrs. Wallace Little) of Huntsville; Mark of Haliburton; Grenville of Whitby; Denise (Mrs. Mark Scheffee) of Haliburton; Verlie (Mrs. Thomas Randall) of Searchmount; Leslie of Searchmount and Bill, Richard and Anne at home. Also surviving are a sister, Ella, of Burnt River and one brother George of Bobcaygeon. There are 19 grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Holly Sisson, Max Sisson, Brant Sisson, Carl Sisson, Ray Sisson, and Don Sisson.

Interment was made in Evergreen Cemetery, Haliburton.

C.N.I.B. REPORT

In 1956 in co-operation with the Canadian Ophthalmological Association the Canadian National Institute for the Blind formed Canada's first eye bank. Since 1956 over 200 blind Canadians have been helped by the chomical transplant operation. These operations were made possible by thoughtful people who willed their eyes to the eye bank.

In the district served by Haliburton and district advisory committee the CNIB is also carrying on a very active prevention of blindness program among school children. This is a very important service to the district as many of the children would not receive eye care were it not for the CNIB.

At the present time there are 15 people in the Haliburton district who are considered as blind. These people receive services from the CNIB which cannot be obtained from any other source.

Several of the registered blind people from the Haliburton area receive record books from the national library in Toronto. Some are taught handicrafts and other skills by a teacher employed by the CNIB.

If necessary the CNIB will provide a home for elderly blind people who do not have any one to look after them.

In the Province of Ontario there are 10 modern residences maintained by the organization for these elderly people.

There are many other services too numerous to mention which are available to any registered blind person. Your support during the annual appeal for funds in Haliburton and district which is to take place from October 1 to October 15 is urgently requested.

The money you donate to this campaign will be used to provide the mentioned services and it will also help in the search for new and better ways to help the blind.
